Determining how much money to bring to Florida for Meals:

The above calculations are/can be on the conservative side. It depends upon your child and his/her eating habits to determine how much to spend and how often on meals. Most students eat a larger breakfast and then (because of the heat) only eat one more time during the day. Students then pick a little when hungry rather than sitting down to a third meal. Disney Meal Tickets can also be used for Dinner time as well.

In every park, there are eating establishments that have what you need on the menu for $14.99 or less. You can look online at Disney.com and look up "Parks and Travel", "Walt Disney World", and under "Things To Do...Dinning" links and you will get a list of all the establishments and the price ranges to work out where you would like to eat ahead of time. Disney Meal cards include a main entree, side dish, dessert, and a drink. See back of card for establishments.
